OUTLINES.

It was stated at the White House yesterday that the publicity given to the alleged "rich men's plot" to defeat Roosevelt's policies will nip it in the bud; Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania, denies that he gave the plotters away; a Standard Oil director says the story is absurd and Harriman refuses to talk about it; the Nebraska Legislature yesterday endorsed Roosevelt.——A score of people were killed and many injured, and houses and forests demolished by a tornado which swept through portions of Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama yesterday. ——District Attorney Jerome decided, late yesterday at New York, not to appeal from Justice Fitzgerald's decision in refusing to allow the prosecution to examine the minutes of the lunacy commission which declared that Harry Thaw is sane, the trial will, therefore, proceed on Monday morning when the twelfth week will be entered.——The rioting of strikers at the American Shipbuilding Company, at Loraine, O., resulted in the calling out of troops who are protecting the strikebreakers, 400 of whom have taken the places of the men who walked out, with 600 more to arrive.——Col. Meldrim, of Savannah, made the closing argument at New Orleans yesterday, in the appeal case of Greene and Gaynor, declaring that it was a violation of the National honor to extradite the prisoners for an extraditable offense and try them for offenses for which they could not be extradicted.——The employes of twenty-four breweries in Philadelphia are on a strike and the city is threatened with a beer famine.——In Chicago yesterday Adam Rhein tried to kill his wife who had separated from him, fatally shot her father and mother and committed suicide.——At Norfolk Italian strikebreakers have taken the places of the striking negro longshoremen and the latter have been notified by the steamship companies that they are not wanted for the work. ——The combined armies of Honduras and Salvador are massing on the frontier to continue the war with Nicaragua; there was a mutiny of Honduran troops at the Capital and it had to be abandoned to the Nicaraguans.—— New York markets: Money on call, easy, 2 to 2 1-2 per cent.; ruling rate, 2 1-4; closing bid, 2 1-4; offered at 2 1-2; spot cotton, quiet, 11 cents; flour steady with a fair demand; wheat strong, No. 2 red, 82 3-4 elevator; corn firm, No. 2, 56 1-2 elevator; oats steady, mixed, 46; turpentine and rosin firm.

If you see any tents spread out on the White House lawn it is a sign that yellow journalists have decided that it is a good place to camp.

It is stated that a California millionaire has married a waitress in a cafe. Never mind. He will soon realize his mistake—in not marrying the cook.

It is very much feared that a friend of Roosevelt's who attended a certain dinner in Washington made straightway to the White House and sold the President a $5,000,000 gold brick. Who said the discoverer of the fabled maresnest was dead?

During the campaign in 1904 President Roosevelt made Judge Parker a member of his Ananias Club. Events and circumstances have proven that Parker is not entitled to membership and should be expelled for telling the truth when he declared that the corporations were financing Roosevelt's campaign.

President Roosevelt on Thursday sent to Chicago a dispatch to Chairman Knapp, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, congratulating him upon the Commission's first effort and first success in arbitrating the impending strike of the trainmen of the Western railroads. The Commission might try its hand in arbitrating the question of veracity between Roosevelt and Harriman.

The Mount Olive Tribune on Thursday entered upon the fourth year of its existence. Editor Fred R. Mintz established it three years ago, and it is a credit to his enterprise and ability. He says "from the start the enterprise has been a success and today is on a stronger foundation than at any previous time." He adds, however, that "there are yet turbulent seas and lowering clouds ahead of us." Here's hoping that Fred can brush the clouds away and command the seas to stand still.

It is stated in Washington that there is a disposition to laugh "at the cock and bull story about the Hearst-Harriman-Rockefeller Combination," which is alleged to already have a nest egg of $5,000,000 to defeat Roosevelt's policies by packing the Republican National Convention with delegates who will be opposed to having it run by Roosevelt, or by electing a Congress opposed to Roosevelt's policies. It must be admitted that it is quite ridiculous when Hearst is dragged into it, for William Randolph beat Roosevelt to the bat in the trust-busting game.

THROWN FROM A CAR

Narrow Escape of Mrs. Fannie A. Swindell Early Last Night on Street.

HER ESCAPE WAS NARROW

Picked Up on Pavement By Pedestrian After She Had Been Knocked Almost Unconscious—Misjudged Speed of Car.

While on her way early last evening to the meeting of Letitia Lodge, Daughters of Rebekah, the ladies' branch of Odd Fellowship, Mrs. Fannie A. Swindell, a member of that order and mother of Messrs. Charles E. and Charles G. Hall, of this city, fell from a street car at Third and Princess street and was painfully, but not necessarily dangerously injured. Mrs. Swindell probably misjudged the speed of the car and in stepping off was thrown violently to the brick pavement. She was unconscious or dazed for the moment and lay in the street for some minutes, as her fall was evidently not known to anyone on the car.

Mr. J. W. Smith, proprietor of the Eagle Steam Laundry, was coming down the street after supper and saw an object by the track as if trying to rise. He went over and found that it was Mrs. Swindell, who first said in her dazed condition that a car had struck her, but who afterwards recovered sufficiently to know that she had stepped from the car and was thrown. The car at that time had gotten as far as Fourth street, going east.

Capt. C. R. Branch was driving down the street about the same time and stopped to assist Mr. Smith with the injured lady. She was assisted to one of the offices in the Odd Fellows' building, in close proximity, and several of the Daughters of Rebekah, who had arrived sooner at their meeting room, just across from the City Hall in the old I. O. O. F. building, came down and rendered what assistance they could. Mrs. Swindell had a painful cut back of the head and was suffering from several bruises, but she said that she was perfectly well enough to go on to the lodge meeting, which was in the building adjoining. It was thought best, however, that she be sent to her home and Capt. Branch kindly proffered his surry, which was accepted. Mrs. Swindell was resting very easily at last accounts.

It was learned from those in the vicinity of the accident that the car made no stop at all at Third and Princess streets. It is possible that the car was not rung down at all, and that it was proceeding the usual speed up the street when Mrs. Swindell in the darkness stepped off and was thrown. At any rate no one on the car knew that an accident had happened and Mr. Smith was the first to discover the lady on the pavement. She had a very violent fall and the wonder is that she was not injured more severely. Mrs. Swindell has many friends who trust that no ill effects will follow the injuries she received.

ROOM OF HISTORY.

Noted Men Who Have Been Entertained at Wilmington.

The Raleigh News and Observer of yesterday says: "Governor Gleen, who lately visited Wilmington and who was entertained by Mr. James Sprunt while there, says that the Sprunt home is a most historic place.

It was the old Governor Dudley residence, and while there Governor Glenn occupied the room which Governor Dudley had occupied seventy-three years ago. He was the first Governor of North Carolina elected by the people, and Governor Glenn is the latest.

"Governor Glenn was shown the room occupied by Daniel Webster when he visited Governor Dudley, and the little portico from which he addressed the people at night. The same room was used by Henry Clay when he visited Wilmington.

"Mr. Sprunt has a picture of Charles the Second and pictures of all of the Lords Proprietors of North Carolina except one, this being the only collection of their portraits now in existence.

"Governor Glenn has in his office at the Capitol an oil painting of Governor Dudley, who was the first to promote the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad. The portrait shows a man whose face is the index of a strong character."

DAMAGE BY FREEZE

Telegraphic Reports to Truckers' Journal Indicate Injury of From Ten to Twenty-Five Per Cent. This Year's Crop.

From telegraphic reports to the Carolina Fruit & Trucker's Journal, of this city, from Chadbourn, Tabor, Whiteville, Cerro Gordo, N. C., Mullins, Conway, Florence, Charleston and Lake City, S. C.; Currie and Fayetteville, on the Atlantic and Yadkin Railroad; Burgaw, Wallace, Warsaw, Mt. Olive and Faison, on the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad, it is shown that the recent cold weather damaged the strawberry crop of this season anywhere from 10 to 25 per cent.

The Journal says: "At one time it was feared that the damage would be much heavier, but the quick rise in the temperature the day following the cold wave had much to do with saving the crop. Many of the berries were strawed and protected as far as it was possible to shield them from such damages, and, taken as a whole, it is safe to say that the damage will not exceed 25 per cent. The crop, however, will be short of last year's in volume, first on account of the reduction in acreage, and secondly as the result of the cold wave of last Monday.

"Last year's crop was in the neighborhood of 2,300 carloads and it is not believed that the crop of 1907 will exceed 1,800 carloads, certainly not more than 2,000. Shipments would have begun next week but for the late cold wave, and now they will not begin before week after next at best.

"Irish potatoes, beans, peas, and other vegetables suffered similar if not greater damage than strawberries, the green foliage of the latter being so far advanced as to have protected the fruit from the cold."

L'AGILE COTILLON CLUB.

Delightful Easter German Danced Last Night in Masonic Temple.

The annual Easter german of L'Agile Cotillon Club was danced last night in the Masonic Temple ball room, and was a most delightful affair for the large number of couples who participated. The decorations were very pretty and excellent music was furnished by Kneissel's Orchestra. In the balcony were a large number of spectators, who looked on with admiration. The german was led by Mr. Paul L. Cantwell, who performed the exacting duties of this position with his accustomed proficiency.

Among those present and dancing were: Miss Theo. Cantwell, Mr. Emmet Crow; Miss Madeline DeRosset, Mr. Norwood Huske; Miss Charlotte Pleasants, Mr. E. P. Bailey, Jr.; Miss Crapster, of Baltimore, Mr. Marion James; Miss Daisy Burbank, Mr. Eugene LeGrand; Miss Elovine Burruss, Mr. W. L. Smith, Jr.; Miss Helen Pleasants, Mr. Ed. "CLANSMAN" AT JAMESTOWN.

An Indefinite Run of Tom Dixon's Play at Norfolk, Va.

The long tour of "The Clansman" is now nearing its end, as Geo. H. Brennan has arranged for an indefinite run of the play in the Academy of Music, Norfolk, Va., in connection with the festivities of the Jamestown Exposition. Since September last the company has toured 32,000 miles, equivalent to a circuit of the globe one and one-half times, and has performed the play in 250 of the chief towns of the South. Among most notable of these engagements have been those in Richmond, Norfolk, Nashville, Memphis and New Orleans. "The Clansman" will open at the Academy of Music in Norfolk on Monday, April 29th, two or three days after the formal opening of the Exposition, and it is expected that the play will run there all summer. It is rumored that in the latter part of the season its author, Thomas Dixon, Jr., will put on a new play based on his recently issued novel, "The Traitor." The latter is the third in the Reconstruction Series begun with "The Leopard's Spots" and continued with "The Clansman."

Justice Bornemann's Court.

The seven negroes who engaged in a free fight in East Wilmington Friday night of last week were before Justice Bornemann yesterday morning. One of them only, Lester Brown, was tried. He was found guilty of assault and battery only and was fined $10 and costs. The justice postponed the trial of the others until this evening at 6 o'clock, in order that he might have more time to investigate the case, and try to find which of the crowd stabbed Robt. Willie during the fracas.

THE STATE'S TROOPS

Two Regiments to Jamestown Exposition, Probably One to Fort Caswell.

PRACTICE WITH REGULARS

New Seaboard Agent for Passenger Service at Wilmington—An Engagement Announced—Other State Capital News Notes.

(By Southern Bell Telephone.)

Raleigh, N. C., April 5.—Governor Glenn announced his decision today to send at least two regiments of the North Carolina National Guard to the Jamestown Exposition during North Carolina Week, which is between August 10th and 14th. The probabilities are that the third of the three regiments will be sent to Fort Caswell for practice with the regulars there. It is not known, however, which of the regiments will go to the Exposition, and which will go to Caswell. This will be decided definitely later. It is said that there is a strong influence being brought for the Governor to designate the First and Third regiments to go to Jamestown, but this will be resisted by the Second regiment or at least some of the companies composing that command. The officers of the First regiment were selected to command the companies sent by the State to the Charleston Exposition, and the First was afterwards selected for the Manassas manoeuvres, and last year the Third was selected to go to Chattanooga.

Traveling Passenger Agent C. H. Gattis announces that the through trains from Charlotte to Wilmington on the Seaboard Air Line will probably be put in operation on April 28th. He also today announced that L. O. Reavis had been appointed city ticket agent at Wilmington, the same effective on April 11.

The engagement of Miss Eliza Simmons, daughter, of Hon. F. M. Simmons, Senator from North Carolina, and Mr. Graham Andrews, youngest son of Col. A. B. Andrews, first vice president of the Southern Railway, is announced. The ceremony will take place some time in November.

SOUTH WILMINGTON SCHOOL.

Box Party Given During Past Week and Much Enjoyed.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

South Wilmington, April 5.—A box party at South Wilmington School House, about four miles from Wilmington on Front Street road, last Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock for the benefit of the Sunday School was a great success. The house was crowded to the extent that all the seats were filled and chairs had to be brought in from neighboring houses to accommodate the crowds, many of whom came out from the city and from the Sound side in wagons loads. The boxes were filled with good things that tickled the palate, and were sold at auction, and all brought handsome prices. The donation of Miss Mary Lee Shines, teacher at Oak Hill School, Myrtle Grove School, brought the handsome sum of $5. The boxes were opened after the auction and each one with a partner proceeded to satisfy the inner man with the good things they contained, together with ice cream, which was served in abundance. The net receipts of the entertainment exceeded the expectations of all. After music and some time spent in pleasant social intercourse, the party returned to their homes feeling that the evening had been most enjoyably spent. The community desires to thank one and all for their kindly interest and their presence on the occasion.

MAX FIGMAN TONIGHT.

"The Man on the Box" at Academy of Music.

Max Figman has established himself the foremost comedian on the American stage by his admirable interpretation of Harold MacGrath's hero in "The Man on the Box," which will be seen at the Academy tonight.

From the Atlantic to the Pacific coast and from Canada to Mexico nothing but praises have been spoken of Mr. Figman's art, the excellence of his company and the perfection of his scenic production. To achieve success in a character of which all readers have formed preconceived ideals is no mean task, and denotes the thorough actor and artist. Mr. Figman has always been considered one of the best actors of the modern stage and his preformance of "The Man on the Box" dispels all question and places him in the front rank of American comedy stars. Mr. Figman is under the management of Mr. John Cort, who also directs the tours of Florence Roberts and Maude Fealy, in addition to looking after some seventy-odd theatres in the Northwest. Seats are now selling.

Fire Early Last Night.

The alarm of fire early last night from box 22 was on account of a slight blaze at the residence of Mrs. W. E. Mayo, on Princess, near Front, street. Some clothing in the basement caught from an unknown source and the fire was extinguished without the aid of the Department. The damage was trifling.

GRAND JURY REPORT

Work of Present Term Completed Yesterday Afternoon and Report Made to the Superior Court. A Model of Brevity.

The grand jury at the present term of New Hanover Superior Court completed its labors early yesterday afternoon and made report to His Honor, Judge Long, being discharged with thanks for their tireless work and quick dispatch of business. The report is, perhaps, the shortest on record in several years, but it covers the ground fully and gives evidence of the thorough work of those who make it. There are no sensational recommendations or charges, and it is refreshing for that, if for no other reason. Mr. H. L. Fennell, the foreman, and each member of the jury went about his work with a will and in business-like manner, completing the work in much shorter time than is usual. The report follows:

To His Honor, Judge B. F. Long, Presiding:

We, the grand jury of New Hanover County, for the term of April Court, 1907, beg to report that we have returned 33 true bills and five not true bills, and have made one presentment.

Examined the Court House, finding same well kept and in good repair except a few boards of ceiling of basement hall, which were removed for running electric light wires, and would suggest that they be replaced.

Visited county jail, finding floors and cells dirtier than they should be, but this is on account of extensive repairs and improvements. These plans and improvements were endorsed by representatives of State, County and City Boards of Health, and when finished the jail will be in every detail complete. The food is abundant and well cooked.

Visited convict camps, finding no complaints.

Visited County Home, finding no complaints, and everything being well kept. We were particularly impressed with the farm's being well tilled and in flourishing condition, which was very gratifying.

Respectfully Submitted,
H. L. FENNELL, Foreman.
JOHN H. LEGWIN, Secretary.

The grand jury was discharged for the term as there are no further matters for it to act upon. The one presentment made is sealed up until next term of court, when the envelope will be opened and a bill drawn thereon by the Solicitor and sent down for a true or not a true bill. No one save members of the grand jury know the contents of the envelope.

THE CHARLOTTE CASSE WRECKED

Wilmington Craft Thrown Up on Pablo Beach in Florida.

The following Associated Press dispatch was received last night:

"Jacksonville, Fla., April 5.—The sixty-foot two-mast launch Charlotte Casse, said to be owned by Paul Casse, of Wilmington, N. C., was found stranded on the beach sixteen miles below Pablo Beach today with no one on board. It is believed that her owner and party were aboard for a cruise and ran into the severe gale of a few days ago, washing them overboard. The discovery of the launch was reported to the Vice Consul here."

Mr. Paul Casse, owner of the boat, and no party of his were aboard the craft. She had been let to Robert Otto, the well-known navigator of Wilmington, and he with his wife, were living aboard of her in Florida waters, while Mr. Otto was engaged in fishing with the launch. Mr. Casse had private advices from Florida yesterday regarding the craft and though he could not be communicated with last night, it was stated that Otto and his wife were probably safe.

JURY CANNOT AGREE

Seems Hopelessly Divided in Snises Homicide Case in Superior Court.

CASE CONCLUDED YESTERDAY

Further Testimony and Fine Arguments By Counsel on Both Sides ends Case of Much Interest in Community—The Jury.

The jury in the Snipes case in the Superior Court seems to be hopelessly divided and a mis-trial seems not at all unlikely. Up to the hour of the paper's going to press this morning the jury was still out in the Court House and earlier in the night it was stated that there was no possibility of an agreement. This was apparent from the first. While discussing how late a verdict would be received by His Honor when the case was given to the jury at a quarter to eight o'clock last night, Mr. D. L. Gore gave Judge Long to understand that 10:30 o'clock would be quite late enough. But this was soon changed and immediately after supper Mr. Gore, who is recognized as the foreman, asked for the use of the main court room as a sleeping place for the night. This was presumably after the first poll was taken in the jury room and it was seen that there was no possibility of an agreement, for the night at least. Near midnight the jury from the appearance of the lights in the Court House, had retired for the night and there was no further effort to get together on the freedom or conviction of the prisoner at bar. Nothing further will be known until court convenes this morning at 9:30 o'clock. Judge Long will then probably give some intimation of his purpose of keeping the jury together and with additional instructions that may be asked for, a verdict may be reached during the day. This, however, is regarded as a remote possibility as the jury is composed of men of determination and deep conviction. Interest in the case is always keenest when the jury retires and the Star office was besieged with inquiries until long after last midnight to know if an agreement had been reached.

The jury is composed as follows: Messrs. W. E. Merritt, D. L. Gore, F. Jollye, C. H. Ward, John Kelley, J. G. Barrentine, J. Wallace Carmichael, Alex A. Dock, J. N. Fennell, George C. Jackson, W. M. Creasy and Capt. John Barry.

The trial was resumed yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock with the introduction of evidence by the State in rebuttal of that offered by the defense when the State rested Thursday afternoon. There was another large crowd in the court room and Sheriff Cowan and his deputies were kept busy requiring all spectators to be seated in order that the court might not be hampered in its work and in order that the jury might not be discomforted by persons filling all avenues of fresh air. The effort of the State, it was clear to be seen, was for the corroboration of the testimony of Special Officer Croom.

Police Sergeant Chas. S. Burnett, to whom the Solicitor later paid a high tribute in his address to the jury, was the first witness of the morning. He corroborated the statements of the State's witnesses as to admissions, etc., that had been made about the scene on the night of the tragedy. Objection was made by the defense to certain questions and Sergeant Burnett was withdrawn for the time being. Officer Croom was then recalled and he testified to having told Sergeant Burnett of certain admissions made to him by Snipes and of the number of shots fired in the streets. The witness again denied that he had told anyone that he had been shot at by Snipes or that he had shot Snipes in self-defense. He was asked by the defense if he had not made such statements to Messrs. S. G. Hall, Stanland, Billbro and other residents who had come out in the street from their homes on the night of the tragedy. Croom denied these reports most emphatically.

Sergeant Burnett's testimony was then competent and he was recalled to the stand. He corroborated Croom as to what Croom had told him on the night of the killing. Then he retold what Snipes had said; that a crowd had jumped on him in the house; that he had snatched a pistol from another man, fired it and run. He threw the pistol away in the street. Sergeant Burnett then told of the search for the pistol and its being found by Officer M. A. Jones along the route that Snipes had fled.

Lottie Smith, one of the two women in the room when the tragedy occurred, was introduced by the State. She said that there had been no row in the house; that only one pistol shot had been fired, directly contradicting Snipes, who said that he had been either shot or hit in the stomach in the ball room. She said there were no threats made in the room and it was hard for either side to draw from her the real facts as she observed them. She was the woman seated on the end of the counter when the fatal shot was fired and she ran out.

Maude Pinner was recalled to show

ROOSEVELT'S ANANIAS CLUB.

Washington and the entire country is agog over the sensational incident of the week—the addition of E. H. Harriman, president of the Union Pacific Railroad and of its numerous allied lines, to President Roosevelt's Ananias Club. It is not known how many members of the club have escaped, but Zach Magee, Washington correspondent of the Charlotte Observer, recalls the following list:

H. W. Bowen, former United States Minister to Venezuela, who denounced the President's assistant Secretary of State for favoring the asphalt trust in its nefarious operations in Venezuela.

William E. Chandler, former Senator from New Hampshire, and now commissioner of the Spanish claims Commission, who authorized Senator Tillman to say that President Roosevelt had made a remark derogatory to Senators Foraker, Spooner and Knox.

Bellamy Storer, former United States Minister to Austria, who, together with his wife, Mrs. Storer, gave out some correspondence between themselves and the President.

J. F. Wallace, former chief engineer of the Panama canal, whose statements at the time of his resignation from his position did not meet with the approval of the President.

G. O. Shields, president of the American League of Sportsmen, who made some statements concerning the President which did not meet with executive favor.

Alton B. Parker, former judge of the Court of Appeals of New York, and candidate of the Democratic party for the Presidency, who declared that the corporations had financed Mr. Roosevelt's campaign in consideration of implied promises that the Administrtion would not molest these corporations.

Henry M. Whitney, brother to former Secretary of the Treasury, whose statements in connection with a political deal were about to get Mr. Roosevelt into trouble.

Edward H. Harriman, president of the Union Pacific Railroad, whose letter, published in the New York World, showed that Roosevelt had entered into an intrigue with Harriman, Roosevelt asking Harriman to collect campaign funds for the Republican campaign in 1904.

Senator Overman, who is in Washington as a member of the Senate Committee on Military Affairs, investigating the "shooting up" of Brownsville, is quoted as saying of the Roosevelt-Harriman episode:

"The letters of Mr. Harriman and those of President Roosevelt published the past few days are evidence enough to show that there was collusion between the President and Mr. Harriman in the 1904 campaign, and that the President, contrary to his vigorous denial, charging that Judge Parker had told falsehoods and so forth, was practically soliciting funds from the corporations represented by these Wall Street financiers. But I do not see that this will have any effect upon the bills to publish all the financial transactions of the campaign committees, or the bills to prohibit the contributions of corporations. Everybody has known all along that Judge Parker's charges were true. The whole country knew last year what these letters just published reveal, that the corporations financed Roosevelt's campaign, and the country knows that these corporations do not make contributions for nothing. They expected something from the administration in return. Why, when the Tillman resolution for an investigation came up before the elections committee of the Senate the Republicans admitted it. 'What's the use of investigating a thing which everbody knows about?' some one said. And that is the way they all felt, or at least said so. Nobody, except the President, has seriously denied that the corporations contributed this money, and, of course, nobody except a fool would say they contributed it without a consideration."

The North Carolina Senator states the proposition about right. The contributors to the Republican campaign fund knew that they were not making any mistake, either, when they trusted to the Republican party for favors.

SADDEST OF TRAGEDIES.

There was something peculiarly distressing in the Associated Press dispatch from Norfolk published in The Star yesterday morning. Ex-Senator Beasley, of Currituck county, N. C., was there on his way from a fruitless trip to Arkansas in search of his long lost boy, snatched away from a loving home by a kidnapper. Imagine the overwhelming disappointment and grief of the father when he reached Arkansas to find that the boy supposed to be his was not his missing son, but "was so much like Kenneth that it was hard to see how two boys not related could bear such a resemblance to one another." Think of the hope raised in that anxious father to come to naught! He will have to return home and wonder and grieve day by day—an existence worse than death.

Speaking of this as "The Saddest of Tragedies," the Charlotte Observer say:

"Former State Senator S. M. Beasley has returned from a 3,000-mile trip to the Far West in search of his missing son—empty-handed. No tragedy in the criminal annals of North Carolina for many years has touched so many hearts as the mysterious disappearance of Kenneth Beasley. For thirteen months, months that must have seemed to the distracted parents like as many years, their first-born has been lost to them. Had Death been the agency of their sorrow Time ere this would have healed the wound, but in this saddest of tragedies, the Great Healer has served only to accentuate the anguish of uncertainty. Punishment under the common law is too good for the scoundrel who would inflict such weight of sorrow; North Carolina should add kidnapping to its capital crimes. If Harrison be the author of this villainy Harrison should have his deserts of the end of a rope."

The Star, in alluding to the Beasley kidnapping has heretofore declared that kidnapping should be made a hanging offense, and the Observer is right in so declaring. Where a case is positively proven, the kidnapper should stretch a rope.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—"'Next,' calls President Roosevelt to the railroad presidents," says the Baltimore Sun. Then another goes in and gets trimmed.—Washington Post.

—In due time, perhaps, Mr. Roosevelt will demonstrate that "the advice and consent of the Senate" cuts no ice in the selection of his successor.—Washington Post.

—Acting under authority provided by the last Legislature, increasing its powers, the corporation commission has ordered the Seaboard Railway to improve their line from Wilmington to Hamlet by putting down new rails, etc. This order will mean the expenditure of something like $300,000 on the part of the Seaboard, and to the people who patronize the line it will mean almost inestimable benefit. Passengers can travel with far less danger of loss of life and shippers will not be forced to uffer the delays and loses undergone in the past. The old Carolina Central line from Wilmington to Rutherfordton is in bad shape and this order means much.—Charlotte News.

—It will be gratifying to all the people of North Carolina that Hon. Richmond Pearson Hobson, of Alabama, the hero of the Merrimac, has accepted the invitation of the committee, concurred in by the Governor of the State and the Mayor of Raleigh, to deliver the oration on the unveiling of the statute to Worth Bagley in Raleigh, in May. He will be welcomed on a hree-fold ground: First, because he comes as one of the first heroes of America to deliver the eulogy of his comrade who was the first to give his life for the cause in the war with Spain; second, because he is a grandson of North Carolina, sharing the pride in its illustrious history; third, because he is one of the first public speakers in the country having a voice of wonderful charm and carrying power. He was the only man in the St. Louis convention, except Bryan, who could be heard in every part of the immense auditorium.—Raleigh News and Observer.

CIGARETTE GIRLS ON STRIKE.

Nearly Fifty Quit Work in Wilson—Stand on Their Rights.

(Raleigh News and Observer.)

Wilson, N. C., April 4.—It was rumored today that a strike was in progress at the cigarette factory of the Wells-Whitehead Tobacco Company. A reporter called at the office of the factory and asked for an interview in regard to the situation and was informed that the manager was out of the city. Those in charge had no statement to make.

Here is what two of the ladies, who are members of the International Tobacco Workers' Union, had to say in the matter:

"We are not strikers, but we are just simply 'kicking.' We have been getting eight cents per thousand for packing cigarettes. We considered that a fair price and attended to our duties faithfully; but we did kick, and kick hard, when an extra amount of work was forced on us without extra compensation, viz.: to take the cigarettes from our tables after packing them in boxes of 4,000 each, and carrying them to another part of the building and looking up the boss before having our tickets punched. For this extra work we demanded extra pay. It was refused."

On Tuesday night, said one, the packers' work was stopped one hour earlier than usual, and the boss asked the girls how many of them intended to carry out the new order of things. Ten acceded to the demands. Two of the girls were told that they were temporarily dismissed, that when they were needed again that they would be sent for. On Wednesday the thirty-five workers who held out for their rights refused to return to work until those dismissed were reinstated.

Another packer claims that she is a member of the union and that from 10 to 25 cents per week is deducted from each member by the cigarette people; that she paid union dues before she became a member; that if she and those who are now out return to work they will demand pay for the extra work and pay no more dues to the factory people, who, she claims, have no right to collect the same. The forty-five packers are holding firm, and that if they go back the factory people will have to accede to their demands. They say that hereafter they will reorganize the union here, will elect their own officers and pay dues to the union instead of having the same taken out by the factory people.

E. Lewis Evans, secretary and treasurer of the Tobacco Workers' International Union of Louisville, is expected here soon and will adjust matters.

PALMIST DUPED WOMEN.

How Slick Rascal Took in Trusting Creatures at Greensboro.

Greensboro, N. C., April 4.—The sleekest swindling scheme ever worked on Greensboro people was disclosed late last night, when Chief of Police Neeley gave notice of the precipitate disappearance of a man calling himself Vautere, the Clairvoyant Palmist. Six weeks ago the palmist came to Greensboro and secured rooms at 337 South Ashe street, where he opened an office and received quite a libral patronage, there always being from three to six ladies in his reception room. His charges were 50 cents and $1.00. When he had read a portion of one's life he would tell her that if she wanted a complete reading his charges would be more, from $4 to $8, as he thought she were able to pay.

While his stay in the city was short he was known to have more than six thousand dollars on the eve of his departure. This, however, was not fees charged for readings made. His was a slicker dodge than that. When he had his victim sufficiently interested he would tell her that in order to give her more spiritualistic power she must have some money or valuable wrapped in a black bag which he provided, and it must be placed next to her body and not be removed or opened until a fixed date. Rings, watches, and other valuables were used when money was not convenient, these being placed in a box and worn next to the body also. The subject would hand over the money and the clairvoyant woud by sleight of hand trick substitute a slip of paper into the bag instead of the money, and then hand the bag sealed to the person, who was to wear it with instructions that if it were opened before the day set untold disaster would surely follow. His victim, who had seen, as she thought, the money placed in the bag, would depart to return on a set day to have the bag opened at which time her good luck would begin.

Yesterday, it seems, was the time appointed for several of his victims to return. Several made their appearance and after waiting several hours for his return grew aepprhensive and looking in their bags in which various sums were supposed to be they found that they contained only slips of paper.

PAIN WRINKLES

PAIN wrinkles make you look old, much sooner than worry wrinkles, or any other kind of Wrinkles.

Those pain wrinkles seem to petrify your face into a look of constant anguish, that is actually painful to contemplate.

Now, the pains that so many women suffer, every month, are just the pains that you fear the most and that do you the most harm; for pain is harmful, because of its weakening effect on the nerves.

Pain not only makes you LOOK old, but makes you FEEL old. It literally WEARS you out before your time.

So, if you suffer as indicated, from any of the pains due to the ailments peculiar to women, such as headache, low waist-pains, side-ache, leg-ache, numbness. dragging sensations etc., it is high time you did something to prevent their coming upon you, with such persistent regularity, every moon.

The thing to do is to take Wine of Cardui, the well-known vegetable remedy for women's organic ailments. Prepared from ingredients which act curatively, on diseased or disordered womanly organs, Cardui has, for upwards of half a century, demonstrated its marvelous efficacy in almost all forms of female disease, by its beneficial results in the cases of over a million suffering women.

Cardui has been successful in relieving and preventing womanly ills and pains for others. Why not for you?

Cardui does not deaden the nerves but vitalizes them and gives them the strength to throw off the disease that causes the pain. It strengthens, builds and cures. It is a pure and non-intoxicating tonic, absolutely harmless and sure to benefit young or old. Sold everywhere. Try it.

"A Perfect Wreck"

Pinetta, Va., Jan. 16, 1907.

Wine of Cardui has been a God-send to me, for I was bad off, as my neighbors can testify. I keep it in the house all the time and whenever I feel bad I fly to Cardui. Before taking it, I had suffered for about six years and the pains I had I shall never forget. I suffered with dreadful headache, backache, dull aching pains shooting all over me, and such pains low down, I thought, many a time, I was going to die. I tell you I was a perfect wreck. My doctor is a fine man and he did all he could, but I got no better. At last I began to take Wine of Cardui, and began to improve. Now I am stronger, can go out walking, stand on my feet, feel a great deal better, and the pains and aches I have described are all gone. I want every suffering woman to know what Cardui has done for me. It saved my life.

SERIES OF ARTICLES TO BEGIN.

"The Making of a Successful Husband," By Caspar S. Yost.

Beginning tomorrow and continuing each week in the Sunday Star this paper will publish a series of articles by Caspar S. Yost on "The Making of a Successful Husband." The subject is treated in a serio-comedy vein, and the paper is sure the series will be read with entertainment, if not with profit. The articles are illustrated by Von Gottschalk. As one critic wrote of the series, they treat:

"A subject of far-reaching interest, treated with profound philosophy, sound common sense and delightful humor. Put in the shape of letters from a father to his son, permitting the effective style of personal correspondence."

ROYAL VENETIAN BAND.

Seats on Sale Monday for Premier Musical Offering.

The sale of seats for the concert to be given by Sig Calfatty's Royal Venetian Band will go on sale at Plummer's Monday morning and there will, no doubt, be a large demand for seats. The attraction will be the one big concert event of the season, and will prove especially interesting to local music lovers. The price of seats has been made unusually low, but as the band is a guaranteed attraction the Academy management believes that it can get more people at a lower figure. The price of seats is $1.

The band is accompanied on its tour by a well known soprano singer. The date for this engagement is Wednesday evening, April 10th.

New Clam Shell Dredge.

The Southport Herald of this week says: "The new clam shell dredge which has been purchased by the U. S. Engineering Department for use on the Cape Fear River, is expected to reach here this week. The old dredge, the Ajax, is now undergoing the installation of a new boiler, and other extensive repairs. The new dredge is a much larger and more powerful one than the Ajax and has a capacity of doing several times the amount of work."

LOCAL DOTS.

—There was no session of the police court yesterday. There were only a few cases on the docket and Col. Waddell was indisposed and unable to be present.

—Southport Herald: "The steamer Atlantic now lands at her new dock at the foot of Howe street, it having been recently completed. The dock is a commodious one and has a large warehouse on the end in which to store freight, etc."

—Miss Jennie Wood delightfully entertained the children during the story telling hour at the public library yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. These hours are proving very entertaining and instructive for the little folks, and it is hoped to continue them one Friday afternoon in each month.

—Southport Herald: "A large passenger steamer of the ferry-boat type named the 'Colonel Safford' was in for barbor last week. She was bound from Georgetown, S. C., to Norfolk, Va., and will be used chiefly for excursions and the general passenger traffic at the Jamestown Exposition."

—The steamer Madeleine will take the place of the steamer Wilmington Sunday, while the latter is laid up for her annual overhauling. The Madeleine leaves at 9:30 A. M., for the usual trip to Southport, returning to the city at 6 o'clock in the evening. The fare for the round trip will be 25 cents.

—Motorman Jim Moore, of the Consolidated Company, saved a very drunken man from being ground to death under one of the suburban cars on the Beach line night before last about 11 o'clock. As the car was nearing Delgado Motorman Moore saw a prostrate figure lying between the rails and applied the brakes in time to stop the car within a few feet of the object, which subsequently proved to be a very drunken individual, who had fallen and gone to sleep just where he would certainly have been killed but for the watchfulness of the man at the controller. The drunken man was brought to the city and turned loose.

that there had been no row in the room, strengthening the State's cases at several material points. She said there was only one shot fired in the house. She said that she was not in the room and that her door was ajar; if there had been any row she could have heard it. She was given a rigid cross-examination by the defense to show a discrepancy between the statements she had just made and those she made on the day before. Nothing, however, was gained from this cross-examination.

Dr. C. D. Bell, the coroner, was recalled, and stated that Officer M. A. Jones, at the inquest, had made no statement as to what Croom had told him about pursuing and shooting Snipes. The defense secured an admission from Dr. Bell that the inquest was not as to the wounding of Snipes but as to the death of Williams. It was also sought to make the coroner a witness as to the bad character of Croom.

Officer C. H. Tatum was recalled by the State and an effort was made by the State to impeach his character. To this the defense strongly objected, saying that Mr. Tatum was his own witness. The court allowed him to proceed and an exception was noted by the defense. The defense admitted having been discharged from the police force but denied that he had been charged with beating his wife.

Dr. Slocum, surgeon in charge of the hospital, was recalled as an expert and certain hypothetical questions were put to him by the Solicitor. The immediate affect of the wound received by Snipes would have been to cause the person to bend over instead of to fall back as Snipes had testified he had done. This was for the purpose of fixing the question as to whether the shot was fired from the side as he ran or from the front as he turned upon Croom.

Sergeant Burnett was called for a third time to the stand to testify as to the condition of the room when he went in to investigate the tragedy. He said the room was in perfect order and there was no sign of any fracas.

Police Captain George Smith was called for the State but he had not arrived in response to a subpoena just served on him, and the defense introduced Messrs. S. G. Hall, L. A. Billbro and others to show that Croom had told them on the night of the tragedy that Snipes had fired upon him. They testified most positively that Croom had told them so.

Police Captain Smith was placed on the stand for the purpose of locating Snipes' pistol, which has been missing ever since the trial. He said that the pistol had been entered on the police court record of articles taken from prisoners and had been put in the case kept for that purpose and properly numbered but after that time he had never seen it. Both sides stated that they had been making great effort to locate the pistol, but it could not be found. Its disappearance seems to be a mystery. The police say it was turned over to the coroner but the coroner says that he has never seen it since it was before the inquest at the City Hall.

The State tendered to the defense a young man named Daniels, but it was stated that he knew no material facts as to the killing and he was not introduced.

At 12:30 o'clock the State closed its case and the judge ordered that counsel go to the jury with their argument. There was some little parleying about an opening and closing but finally this was settled and Fred W. Bonitz, Esq., who was admitted to the bar only the day before made the opening for the State in his maiden effort before the jury. His address was the talk of the court room during the day. He made the argument of an old practitioner and it was declared the best "first effort" of an attorney ever heard in the Court House. He was strong in his delivery, marshalled his facts well and presented the sentimental part of the case in eloquent language. His speech was such as to cause his friends to predict great things for him as an advocate.

He was followed by Walter P. Gafford, Esq., junior counsel for the defense. Mr. Gafford made an able argument. His discourse showed a deep study of the law involved and the facts developed in the trial, speaking as a man deeply convinced of his client's innocence. He was followed by Herbert McClammy, Esq., whose brilliant presentation of the case was remarked by all. His was a powerful, telling discourse. Many who were not before convinced of the merits of his case were changed in their opinions when he was through.

Then followed Mr. Marsden Bellamy, senior counsel for the defendant. He always speaks with force and power. The jury was deeply moved at his presentation of the law and facts. Members of the panel leaned over in their chairs and lingered upon his words. It was a masterly effort by a masterful man.

The case was closed by Solicitor Rodolph Duffy in as brilliant a speech as was ever heard here in the Court House, and Solicitor Duffy has been heard before. Facts were marshalled in almost incontrovertible array and an eloquent plea was made that justice be done. He spoke as one deeply conscious of his duty and his words had manifest effect on his hearers. He painted eloquent word pictures of the two families so deeply bowed down in grief over the tragedy. The sympathy was always with the man in court and not with the sorrowing ones back yonder in a desolated home. His was an eloquent presentation of the innermost feeling of humankind and the jury, no doubt, were impressed with what he said. It was 7 o'clock when Solicitor Duffy was through and then began the charge of Judge Long to the jury. This was regarded as a very able one in every particular, eminently fair to both sides. He charged that according to the contentions of the State the jury could bring in only two verdicts, either of murder in the second degree or acquittal. There was no element of manslaughter. According to the contention of the defense, but one verdict could be brought in, and that was not guilty. He then reviewed very carefully the contentions of each side and gave his instructions in a clear, forcible manner. The charge of His Honor lasted not over tihrty minutes and was listened to with rapt attention by the jury.

The judge asked the jury to retire and make up their verdict, suggesting that they first get supper. Juror A. A. Dock said that he was sick and unable to go to the hotel. Judge Long then ordered that supper be brought to the Court House for the jurors. This was done, but soon after supper, Mr. Gore, who is recognized as foreman of the jury, came out and announced that they desired the use of the main court room for sleeping purposes for the night and it was known then that there was no possibility of an agreement before day. Judge Long stated that he would come down to the Court House and receive any verdict that might be rendered before 10:30 o'clock. But it was seen in fifteen minutes after the jury had retired that they were very much divided. A mis-trial is freely predicted by many.

GREENE AND GAYNOR'S APPEAL.

Meldrim Claims National Honor Was Violated in Extraditing Them.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New Orleans, April 5.—A new trial was asked for Greene and Gaynor by P. W. Meldrim, of Savannah, who made the closing argument for the defendants in their appeal to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. This was the fifth consecutive day of the argument. Mr. Meldrim claimed that it was a violation of the National honor to extradite prisoners, as he said had been done in the Greene and Gaynor case, for an extraditable offense and then to take advantage of the jurisdiction thus gained to try them on indictments for different offenses. He repeated the claim of the defense that extradition had been for participation in fraud by the agent or trustee while one of the indictments was for conspiracy, which was not an extraditable offense. As for the two other indictments, he declared, the prisoners could not be tried for any offense except that for which they had been extradited.

Answering the government's claim that as fugitives from justice, Greene and Gaynor could not benefit by the statute of limitations in two of their indictments, Mr. Meldrim asserted that it was legally impossible for the defendants to be fugitives from justice of the Federal Court in Georgia when they were at the same time appealing to the justice of the Federal Court of their own homes in New York which had jurisdiction to try them.

The technicality of having special jury commissioners prepare a list of jurors from counties outside that division of the Georgia court district in which the trial occurred was urged as having no warrant in law.

Answering the charges of fraud in securing contracts for Savannah harbor work, counsel denied that the time of advertising for bids had been unusually short, saying that twenty-one days, the time allowed, was longer than the practice in some other places had been, giving as examples, Charleston and Galveston. Captain Carter's alleged fraudulent specifications, Mr. Meldrim said, were precisely the same as those of his predecessor, except the provision for an eight-hour day, American labor, and that good order be preserved in the work. He cited the opinions of six army officers, four engineers from private life and three contractors to show that the matting, claimed to be inferior by government attorneys was in accordance with specifications.

Both the advertisements and specifications, he added, were corrected and revised by the War Department.

Mr. Meldrim said that while large profits were made, great risks had been run and a large and expensive plant and skilled labor were necessary.

Argument on the appeal closed today, with Mr. Meldrim's speech, and the court took the case under consideration. Judges Shelby, Pardee, and McCormick constitute the court.

BRADSTREET'S TRADE REVIEW.

Full Order Books and Backward Deliveries in Most Lines.

New York, April 5.—Bradstreet's will say tomorrow:

Despite some cross currents in demand, due mainly to the withdrawal of the Easter stimulus to trade and a succeeding spell of cold weather, the developments of the week have been mainly favorable. All reports as to trade at wholesale and in jobbing circles in first quarter are in a high degree favorable and failure returns confirm these in the smallest number of casualties for a generation past. Reports from most leading industries are still of full order books and of backward deliveries. There is, however, slightly more manifest a disposition to move more conservatively as regards distant positions, some easing off actual quotations and a softening of asking prices for various products, and the jewelry, shoe, leather and wool trades note quiet, pending a clearer view of later developments.

In the dry goods trade there has been something like a lull in jobbing lines, now that the first rush of Spring demand is over, and the course of retail trade will be closely watched. There are evidences of growing activity in out of door work, and lumber, hardware, paints and allied lines are more active at the West. Collections do not yet feel the impetus of payments upon business booked earlier and are irregular, being slowest in parts of the Northwest, and at the South. Talk of cancellations is still widely heard. Pig iron is quiet, deliveries have improved, and buyers appear more disposed to defer placing contracts for second half deliveries.

PHILADELPHIA'S BEER FAMINE.

Employes of Twenty-Four Breweries on Strike.

threatened with fD..etaoshrd

Pittsburg, April 5.—Pittsburg is threatened with a beer famine as the result of the strike today of 1,500 workers employed by 24 breweries in this city. The Pittsburg Brewing Company and the Independent Brewing Company, two of the largest breweries in the city, are tied up. Meetings of the Western Pennsylvania Brewers' Association are being hld to decide whether open shop will be declared. The brewers agreed to giv the men shorter hours and more pay if they would agree to submit the other questions to arbitration, but this was refused and the men went out today.

CONFIDENCE IS GROWING.

Prices on New York Stock Exchange Advance Again.

New York, April 5.—Operations for the advance were very aggressively pursued in the stock market today and wide additions were made to yesterday's gains in prices. No change in conditions from those of yesterday were apparent, beyond the continuance of the relaxing tendency in money. This was, in fact, regarded as the keynote of the situation and gave the impetus to the movement in stocks.

The size of individual transactions, the congestion of the dealings in a few special stocks and the sensational movements in such stocks gave an impresion of participation in the dealings by organizations or individuals' possession of resources far beyond the ordinary. The action of the market under such forces takes on a more or less artificial character and reflects active manipulation as well as genuine marketing of securities, and if for that reason viewed with some suspicion. Enormous operations centered in the Harriman Pacifics and in Reading, suggesting the resumption of market operations by forces which have been quiescent in the trading for a considerable time. Southern Pacific shared fully in the movement and was regarded as giving the motive for it in its extraordinary showing of net earnings for February.

The easing of the local money market has had the effect of checking the inflow of currency to this centre, and New York exchange at Chicago has fallen back to par. It was announced also that all of the gold engaged in London last Monday for shipment to this point had been resold in that market. Another helpful factor in the strength of the market was the settlement without a strike of the wage dispute on Western railroads.

The large selling to take profits during the day was skillfully conducted, but the market closed irregular and considerably below the best prices. Bonds were strong. Total sales, par value, $2,942,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales today, 1,327,600 shares.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Lumberton Robesonian: The machinery for Lumberton Bakery has arrived. Mr. J. W. Garrett, of Charlotte, is here setting it up.

—Lumberton Robesonian: A forest fire which lasted for some day this week did considerable damage to timber several miles northeast of town. About 10,000 acres were burned over.

—Asheville, April 4: Relative to the remarks of President Roosevelt as contained in dispatches from Washington concerning Judge Pritchard and the American Tobacco Company, Judge Pritchard today stated that he did not care to say anything for publication.

—Pender Chronicle: The Burgaw postoffice changed on the first day of April, from a fourth class office to a third class office. We are proud to note this change, it speaks well for the town and community, also the management of our genial postmaster, Mr. R. M. Croom.

—Wadesboro, April 4: Following close upon the organization of the Wood and Iron Works, there was organized here the Wadesboro Electrical Manufacturing Company. The charter to be asked for will permit the company to manufacture telephone and other electrical supplies with the privilege of increasing the capital stock and engaging in other manufacturing of a kindred nature.

—Goldsboro, April 4: Dr. W. H. Smith left last week to begin his duties as house physician for eighteen months at Polyclinic Hospital in Philadelphia. This is a most desirable position for a young physician as it affords a wide field for experience in the treatment of nearly eevry disease that a physician is liable to come up with in a life practice.

—Snow Hill, April 4: A most unexpected death occurred here Thursday morning last about 10 o'clock when George, Jr., the eighteen-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. McGee died. He was in his usual health, playing about home and while in the yard fell over, dying before Dr. J. H. Harper could get there. He is supposed to have died of some intestinal trouble.

—Council correspondence Clarkton Express: The forest fires have about been subdued at last, after covering much territory and doing considerable damage. They looked very threatening to the town one day coming in from several directions. It would seem that some were distributing it in different localities while others fought. No doubt the guilty ones would be given the limit of the law if they could be apprehended.

—Greenville, April 4: Mr. O. E. Warren, proprietor of Riverside nurseries, has goen to Norfolk to begin an important work assigned him. The North Carolina Commissioners have awarded Mr. Warren the contract to landscape, furnish plants and superintend the planting of the grounds around the North Carolina State buildings at the Jamestown Exposition. There is no doubt that under his direction the work will be well done.

—Under an act of the General Assembly the Board of Commissioners of Bladen county have ordered an election in Elizabethtown township, Tuesday, May 7th, for the purpose of voting on the question of issuing bonds in the amount of $25,000, with interest-bearing coupons, to aid in the construction of a standard gauge railroad from Abbottsburg or some other point on the Seaboard Air Line Railroad to Elizabethtown.

—The Council correspondent of the Clarkton Express writes: "We understand that a company of Croatans of Robeson will be at Jamestown as a sideshow representing the lost tribe, etc. Why not some of the Bladen boys dig a 'Tory Hole' and give a reproduction of 'Brown's Battle with the Tories.' Anything for amusement will go there, where people are out for a good time. We were liberal enough to give a Yank a half dollar on several occasions at Buffalo in 1900, when they would put off a fancy speech on subjects and sights of less notoriety than these."

—Raleigh News and Observer, April 5: Sheriff H. L. Joyner, of Northampton, came in yesterday and brought two prisoners to the penitentiary, one of them being Willie G. Matthews, who was convicted of murder in the escond degree. He is sixteen years old and killed J. T. Rainey. He stayed all night at Raney's, his nephew, and got up at 4 o'clock next morning, took Raney's gun and killed him. He said he killed him because Raney had called him a negro and insulted him. He was sentenced to the penitentiary for thirty years by Judge C. C. Lyon. The other convict was a negro who was sent up for four years for burglary. The murder of Mr. Raney shocked the county and only the youth of Matthews saved him from the gallows.

"Can a girl be a mollycoddle?" inquires one of the sex. She can be worse—she can be a Mrs. Mollycoddle, if she don't watch her corks while she's fishing for a husband.

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, April 5.—The cotton market was moderately active again today and more or less irregular with the general tendency downward under realizing and a little selling by favorable new crop news. The close was steady at a net decline of 9 to 11 points. Sales weer estimated at 140,000 bales. The opening was steady at a decline of 2 to 6 points, but the loss was increased right after the call to a matter of 8 to 9 points, owing to easier cables, reports of rain in the Southwest, bearish advices as to conditions in the Eastern belt and the larger estimates for tomorrow's receipts at Houston. Offerings were not aggressive at the decline and while there seemed to be no renewal of bull support, prices rallied during the middle of the session, on covering in the absence of important offerings. Old crop months advanced to about the closing figures of the previous day, but the new crop months rallied only 3 or 4 points and later the entire list turned easier on a renewal of scattering liquidation, with the close at practically the lowest point of the session. Southern spot markets as officially reported were unchanged to 1-8 lower. Advices were received from the Eastern belt stating that the favorable weather had led to an increase in acreage, where least expected, and that the crop was advanced far beyond the average. Bulls still claim that precipitation has been inadequate in the Western belt.

Receipts of cotton at the ports today, 16,824 bales, against 25,172 last week, and 16,243 last year. For the week, 125,000 bales, against 147,231 last week, and 113,900 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 3,880 bales, against 3,994 last year and at Houston, 2,405 bales, against 3,130 last year.

Spot cotton, quiet; middling uplands, 11.00; middling gulf, 11.25; no sales. Futures closed steady. Prices ranged as follows:

J. T. Ebert, formerly of 515 South Sixth St., Wilmington, N. C., says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills in my family. My little girl complained of severe pains in the small of her back, and the kidney secretions were dark and full of brickdust sediment. We were very much worried about her, and when I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills, I went up to R. R. Bellamy's drug store and got a box and gave them to her. Since using them she has improved wonderfully and is a different child. Her kidney secretions cleared up, she does not complain of her back, and, in fact, Doan's Kidney Pills gave her new life. We are very much pleased with them and you can use my name and welcome."

THAW'S TRIAL WILL PROCEED

District Attorney Jerome Will Not Take Appeal to Higher Court

WILL PRESS FOR MURDER

Attorney Delmas Will Begin to Sum Up for Thaw on Monday and May Speak for Two Days. Jerome Brief.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, April 5.—The trial of Harry K. Thaw will proceed on Monday morning when Delphin M. Delmas, the leading counsel for the defense, will begin his summing-up address to the jury. District Attorney Jerome decided late today not to apply to the appellate division of the Supreme Court for a writ of prohibition or mandamus to halt the trial.

He reached this decision, it was said, after a consultation with eminent counsel. Mr. Jerome may argue briefly on Monday morning against the confirmation of the report of the lunacy commission which declared Thaw to be sane, but he is aware that Justice Fitzgerald's disposition is to confirm the report which was unanimous. The district attorney has many witnesses still under subpoena, but it is said he has decided not to call them and will press the trial forward to an early verdict.

When Jutice Fitzgerald yesterday declined to grant the district attorney access to the minutes of the lunacy commission Mr. Jerome threatened to carry the matter to the appellate division on the ground that he had been excluded from the final examination of Thaw by the commission. He said he had been willing to waive the right to be present, with the understanding, ofcourse, that he was to be allowed to have possession of the testimony. He had promised the commission not to use this testimony against the prisoner in any way at his trial.

Immediately after yesterday's adjournment, Mr. Jerome set about seeking urecedents upon which to base his application to the higher court. He was at his office again early this morning and then went to the appellate division building. Instead of applying for a stay of the trial, however, Mr. Jerome sought counsel among his judicial friends, and it is said to be upon their advice that he reconsidered his determination not to press the matter.

Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton was on the stand as a witness for the defense when the trial proper was halted more than two weeks ago. In order that the record may be kept straight, he probably will be recalled Monday morning although he may not be permitted to testify.

There was a stipulation in court some weeks ago that each side was to have one day for summing up. It was learned tonight, however, that Mr. Delmas may speak for two entire days. If he wishes this time is undoubtedly will be granted to him. District Attorney Jerome has stated that his summing up would not require more than three or four hours. He will ask the jury to convict Thaw of murder in the first degree.

No reference will be made or allowed on either side as to the appointment of the lunacy commission or the nature of its findings. Mr. Jerome will claim that Thaw was sane enough to know the nature and quality of his act when he killed Stanford White and to know that the act was wrong. This is the definition in this state of legal sanity. Regardless of his expressed personal conviction in the matter, Mr. Jerome told the court yesterday that it would be his duty to press the prosecution of the defendant to the utmost.

The trial on Monday will enter its twelfth and what is confidently expected at last to be tis final week.

PILOT DIES AT WHEEL.

Narrow Escape of Steamer Loaded With Sleeping Passengers.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Pittsburg, April 5.—With the spoke of the pilot wheel clutched in a death grip and a hand extended toward the bell rope, George W. Conant was found lying dead in the pilot house of the packet Lorena, near East Liverpool, O., at an early hour today. Without a guiding hand the big packet, filled with passengers, who were peacefully sleeping, wandered hither and thither through the dense fog and was running at high speed in a rock studded pool, when Capt. John Richardson stopped the craft.

Faithful to the last dying breath, Conant exhausted his last bit of strength trying vainly to reach the signal rope, the pull of which would have stopped the boat. His hand was within a few inches of the cord when death overtook him. The packet runs from Zanesville to Pittsburg. Last night the fog became so dense that Capt. Richardson stationed himself in the bow of the boat. In a few minutes he noticed the boat taking an unusually dangerous course. Believing that Conant had become confused by the fog he started for the pilot house.

Opening the door he was horrified to see the dead body of the man at the wheel lying on the floor. Capt. Richardson signalled to the engineer to stop and held the boat in a straight course until it came to a stop.

Bitten by a Spider.

Through blood poisoning, caused by a spider bite, John Washington, of Bosqueville, Tex., would have lost his leg, which became a mass of running sores, had he not been persuaded to try Bucklen's Arnica Salve. He writes: "The first application relieved, and four boxes healed all the sores." Heals every sore. 25c. at R. R. Bellamy's, druggist.

SCORE KILLED BY A TORNADO

Wide Scope of Country in Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama Swept

FOUR TOWNS DEVASTATED

In Alexandria, La., One Hundred Residences Were Demolished—Insane Asylum at Jackson, Miss., Wrecked and Three Killed.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New Orleans, April 5.—A score of persons were killed today by a tornado, which swept for miles across portions of Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama. Parts of four towns were devastated with damage exceeding $50,000. The winds damaged property, crops and telegraph wires throughout its course.

The tornado began at Alexandria, La., soon after 1 o'clock this morning, killing four persons there, probably fatally injuring three and seriously injuring 13 others. Soon after daylight it neared the Mississippi river, killing five persons at Jackson, La., while at Bayou Sara, La., at least half a dozen others are reported killed. There was one fatal injury at Jackson.

The tornado next appeared at Carson, Miss., where great property damage was done, and disappeared about noon near Selma, Ala., where the inhabitants saw whirling clouds rise into the air as they crossed the river. A negro was reported killed near Selma.

Alexandria, a town of about 16,000 inhabitants, had a fearful experience. When the tornado struck, the electric lights went out, the cracking of falling buidings could be heard above the noise of the wind and vivid lightning flashes showed such sights as an empty Iron Mountain passenger train rolling over and over. A heavy hail storm added to the general discomfiture. The main portion of Alexandria escaped the worst of the tornado, which cut a path through the northern part of the town, a residence quarter. About a score of homes were demolished. Fifty were damaged and altogether about 100 buildings were wrecked, including several business houses. A freak of the wind drove a small section of a house into an empty passenger coach, wedging these two bodies almost inextricably together. In the woods about the town, the tornado cut down trees and small cabins in a narrow line about nine miles long. Several houses were blown down at Pineville and injuries were reported. The hail did much damage to crops.

At Jackson, La., the insane asylum was wrecked with a loss of about $200,000. In addition to three female inmates, many others were injured. Mrs. Seach Lea's residence was blown down, and her daughter was severely injured. Two negroes were killed on a nearby plantation, while reports from the surrounding country indicated that there was probably more loss of life.

At Bayou Sara, several passengers on the steamer Betsy Ann had a thrilling escape. The Betsy Ann was severely wrecked. While breaking timbers from the steamer and from the shore flew through the air, the crew got all the passengers safely ashore.

At Carson, Miss., the Mississippi Central Railroad depot was blown down, also a church, a school house, two business buildings and several cabins.

From Carson, the storm crossed the State line into Alabama, where it began to lose much of its destructive power. Peculiar weather conditions prevailed all day throughout south Louisiana and Mississippi. Sudden rains were followed by clear skies and gusts of winds were incessant. Details are slow, as many wires are down.

Coast Line Torn Up.

Montgomery, Ala., April 5.—Specials from South and Western parts of Alabama tell of death and devastation from the cyclone which swept through the southern and eastern portions of the State today. At Bradleyton, the house of Hugh Farrior, a prominent planter, was blown down killing Mr. Farrior and his six-year-old son, fatally injuring Mrs. Farrior. The storm tore up the tracks of the Atlantic Coast Line from Petrey to Patsburg, a distance of several miles. Probable loss of life is reported from North Perrico, where on the plantation of J. J. Moore, a banker of Marion, a row of houses was blown down.

Lightning struck the jail at Selma, knocking down a part of the wall of the prison and terrifying the prisoners.

A special from Pensacola, Fla., says the wind attained the velocity of 43 miles an hour there.

Terry McGovern, the former champion prize fighter, who was taken to a sanitarium at Stamford, Conn., December 9, left the institution last night. Dr. Givens, who has looked after McGovern's health, stated that McGovern is in good health at the present time.

"Pneumonia's Deadly Work

had so seriously affected my right lung," writes Mrs. Fannie Connor, of Rural Route 1, Georgetown, Tenn., "that I coughed continuously night and day and the neighbors' prediction—consumption—seemed inevitable, until my husband brought home a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery which in my case proved to be the only REAL cough cure and restorer of weak, sore lungs." When all other remedies utterly fail, you may still win in the battle against lung and throat troubles with New Discovery, the REAL cure. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy, druggist. 50c. and $1.00 Trial bottle free.

ALLEGED CABAL NIPPED IN BUD

Roosevelt's Policies Saved By Prompt Publicity of Rich Men's Plot.

IT'S DISCOVERER A MYSTERY

Senator Penrose Denies That He Made Terrible Disclosure—Story Simply Absurd—Harriman Mum. Nebraska Legislature Endorses.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Washington, April 5.—It was stated at the White House today that knowledge of the "cabal" alleged to have been formed to defeat the policies of Mr. Roosevelt came to the notice of the President sometime before the dinner at which the whole scheme was laid bare.

Persistent efforts were made at the White House today to obtain the name of the person who essayed to be responsible for giving away the information of the intentions and resources of the combination, but Secretary Loeb uniformly declined to make this public.

Mr. Loeb declared today that no names were mentioned at the White House yesterday when reference was made to some public man who had been present at the dinner and had told the story of the alleged combination to accomplish the defeat of the President's policies in the coming Presidential campaign. This dinner was a comparatively recent occurrence. Secretary Loeb said today there were not any additional details of the affair to be given out, but he emphasized the belief which he expressed yesterday that the publicity which had been made of the intrigues against the interests of the President would "nip the whole scheme in the bud" before the campaign of 1908 is fully on.

President Roosevelt, his son, Theodore, Jr., and Miss Ethel, went out this afternoon for a long ride in the suburbs. The President did not return to his office after luncheon.

Story Simply Absurd.

New York, April 5.—E. H. Harriman declines absolutely to talk about the report from Washington that the Standard Oil Company and associated interests had raised a fund of $5,000,000 to prevent the nomination for President of a man of President Roosevelt's choosing in 1908.

The comment of Frank Q. Barstow, a Standard Oil Company director, on the story was: "It is simply absurd."

Mr. Harriman had a talk late yesterday with H. H. Rogers, of the Standard Oil Company. He said at its conclusion that the talk was only about business matters which were not connected in any way with President Roosevelt.

Senator Penrose Denies.

Philadelphia, April 5.—United States Senator Penrose had this to say today about the published report that he told at a dinner the story of a "Rich Man's Conspiracy" to prevent the selection of President Roosevelt's choice of a successor to himself:

"It is absolutely an untruth. I have never said any such thing. It is all untrue. I have always been a supporter of and believer in President Roosevelt's administration and all its policies." The Senator was asked:

"Have you ever heard of a $5,000,000 fund to prevent President Roosevelt naming his successor?"

"No, absolutely not."

"Have you ever heard of the combination termed the 'Rich Men's Conspiracy' to thwart the President in the development of his policies?"

"No, I have never heard of any such combination and have no knowledge of it."

"Did you attend a dinner of such a character as was mentioned today in the Washington dispatches?"

"No, I never attended a dinner where such a subject was mentioned."

Roosevelt Endorsed.

Lincoln, Neb., April 5.—The Nebraska State Senate today adopted a resolution endorsing the position of President Roosevelt in his controversy with E. H. Harriman, and declaring the confidence of the Senate in the President's moves. The Nebraska House also adopted a resolution expressing confidence in President Roosevelt.

BASEBALL.

Chapel Hill, N. C., April 5.—For seven innings the Georgia and Carolina University teams faced the respective pitchers and the best they could do was to make one hit each. Neither side scored. Thompson, for Carolina, and Foley for Georgia, did gilt-edge work in the box.

The score—

	R.	H.	E.
Carolina . . . . . 000 000 0—0	1	0
Georgia . . . . . 000 000 0—0	1	1

At Richmond, Va.: Virgina State, 0; New York Americans, 16.

At Atlanta: Georgia Techs, 4; Clemson College, 2 (eight innings).

At Atlanta: Atlanta, 4; New York, American, 4. Called in fifth inning, rain.

At Washington: Syracuse University, 8; George Washington, 6.

At Washington: Pennsylvania University, 4; Georgetown University, 2.

At Philadelphia: Philadelphia Nationals, 7; Philadelphia Americans, 2. Three straight games for Nationals.

COMBINED ARMIES BEING MASSED

Honduras and Salvador Preparing to Fight Nicaragua to Bitter End

WAR WILL BE CONTINUED

Capital of Honduras Had to Be Turned Over to Nicaraguan Army Because of Mutiny of Honduran Troops.

Puerto Barrios, Guatemala, April 5.—After the battle of Namasique, in which the forces of Honduras were defeated by the Nicaraguans, President Bonilla withdrew and occupied Amapala, which place is fortified and defended by a strong force of Hondurans. Tegucigalpa, the capital of Honduras, was considerably weakened by forces being sent to Generals Barahona and Christmas, who were defeated after eight days fighting at Namasique, and a mutiny occurred in the garrison at the capital. President Bonilla sent instructions from Amapala, authorizing General Saturnine Medal to evacuate Tagucigalpa, if he was unable to defend it, and save the city from bombardment and looting. The city was evacuated.

The forces of President Bonilla and General Medalare are now uniting with the army of President Figuenora, of Salvador, on the frontier, where the combined armies are being massed for contining the war. General Solomon Ordonoz, the Honduran Minister of War, arrived at Puerto Cortez today, and has taken command of the coast defences. President Bonilla's forces occupy all the cities and towns on the north coast of Honduras, except through Jillo, and the principal ports of the republic, Amapala and Puerto Cortez. The Honduran forces also occupy the railroad and the departments west of Comayagua, containing the principal fighting population of Honduras. President Bonilla's defence extends to Amapala, along the frontier of Salvador, thence north of Sanpedro Sul and Puerto Cortez. He will establish his new capital at Comayagua.
